Create a detailed description of a fictional world set 1000 years in the future, where humanity has colonized multiple planets, and AI plays a significant role in governing society. Include descriptions of the planets' ecosystems, technological advancements, political structures, daily life of citizens, and interactions between humans and AI. Additionally, explore how different cultures have evolved, including religion, language, economy, and societal values. Provide examples of key historical events that shaped this future and describe the challenges and conflicts the inhabitants face due to environmental concerns, AI ethics, and interplanetary diplomacy.
